

LEADERSHIP, ACCOUNTABILITY AND TEAMS

Our work as Contract Professionals involve teaming with business partners either formally or informally. This session will challenge us to examine our role as a leader in supporting and building relationships with our business partners. We will also learn about being accountable, holding others accountable and working together to achieve the best possible outcome. Through a very interactive session, we will examine qualities of dynamic teams and apply those skills to a virtual environment. Come prepared to participate and learn about yourself and your skills in interacting with others to build engagement.
